To all our customers,

We are very pleased to announce that Poulets Riverview Inc. (Riverview) and Alimplus Inc. (Alimplus) have joined forces. For over 50 years now Riverview has earned an excellent reputation as a result of the exceptional service it has provided to its independent restaurant and chain business. For decades Alimplus has earned the confidence of its loyal and distinguished customers because of the outstanding service provided by its team of seasoned customer service representatives and professional drivers covering a large territory with its extensive fleet of trucks.

As a result of our alliance you will have access to a much broader product offering with the same exceptional service. Together we will become one of the largest independent distributors in the province which is privately-held by Québécois.

Riverview and Alimplus share the same values of integrity, excellence, innovation and above all, a profound desire to see our customers succeed. We jointly undertake to continue providing you with exceptional service and a broad array of quality products at the best possible prices.

Yours very truly,

Debbie Goodz
